Join The Few Who Have Discovered 'The Seeds Of Success'

Do you want to learn how to spark new personal growth like never before? Or just condition yourself for greater success?

There are simple, proven ingredients that can help your life be transformed to the highest limit of your potential...or any degree of development you desire. Step up and discover...its all done using the same proven principles that nature uses.

In a moment, I will tell you exactly how it is done. First, I want to take a few seconds to explain who I am and why I am able to show you how you can build a more abundant life than you ever thought possible. My name is Dan Patey and I am a business coach, facilitator and consultant to many successful people and businesses. Over the last 30 years, I have studied successful people and determined what processes and methods really work to produce success. Every step of the way I have applied these natural laws of success and prosperity to see which ones work the best.

Everything I share with you is backed up by real life experiences that have proven their viability. I know you will see the common sense of it - without going through all the books or seminars to discover...

'The Seeds of Success'.

It is really very simple...and this knowledge you will succeed in achieving your true potential.

Yet this approach to success is really simple once you know how... it is based on the four fundamental seeds of natural laws. I will show you exactly what those four seeds are.

Seed # 1 Programming Your Unconscious Mind

First there is the soil. Without the soil you cannot grow and produce anything. The soil is what makes you unique. It is you. It is your identity. It is how you think. It is what creates your thinking. It is how you represent your world and evaluate everything you do.

"Welcome to this exciting release of my new book.

It is a dream come true and I want to share with you the 'seeds of success' in a way that you will be able to understand and apply them in your life from the first day that you read this book.

I wish you every success and look forward to hearing from you as you share your stories of success.

Seed # 2 Feeding Your Conscious Mind

Second there are the roots. With the roots you can produce anything. The roots are what make it possible for you to communicate, feel and provide sensitivity. It is the way you sense who you are; your feelings and emotions. It is what makes you sensitive, what creates your emotions. It is how you feel about your world and communicate everything you believe.

Seed # 3 Nurturing Your Surface World

Third there is the plant. With the plant you can produce anything – there is fruit to harvest. The plant is what makes it possible for everything to be nourished from the roots and the soil and provides the contribution. It is the way you present who you are. You give and receive. It is what makes you human. It is what creates your presence. It is how you associate with your world and your world associates with you. It creates your movement and all the actions you take.

Seed # 4 Contribution to Your Environment

Finally there is the environment. With the right support environment you can produce all the fruit of the harvest. The environment of wind, rain and sun is what makes it possible for everything to be nourished from the inside. To feed and provide support. It is what surrounds you. It is all the people places and possessions. It is what makes you a human being living in an abundant world. It is what creates all your relationships and how you communicate with your world through every action you take.

Real Life Practical Experience

These are principles I have worked out in practice. These are principles working in my life and for many others I have coached. In just 30 days of applying these principles and 'doing the work' on yourself you will begin to discover you are making positive changes that create success. These include: -

1. Knowing what you really want in life.
2. What you really value in life.
3. Create momentum and purpose for success.
4. Building better relationships.
5. Gain greater self worth and confidence.

Here is what you will see when you first see the front cover of the book.

The book has been illustrated by Melvyn Warren Smith who is a renowned international artist and edited by Anita Wright of The Wright Direction who is a professional editor of publications.

6. Become happier and more content.
7. Know you have a better and brighter future.
8. Start to gain financial freedom.
9. Feel more certain about the future.
10. Make better choices.
11. Strengthen your identity and significance.
12. Gain greater contribution to yourself and others.
13. Set effective goals which bring real benefits.
14. Understand the values, which drive you forward.

You will begin to feel younger and have more vitality in your life.

Have you had your best year ever? Why not, then this can be the year you do!

The Most Effective Self Development Process Boils Down To A Proven Step By Step Approach.

This book is filled with fresh ideas and examples that you can adapt in your own life right away. As you read each chapter you will have the opportunity to record your ideas, inspiration and actions as you make progress. It is packed with a wealth of techniques that you can apply the same day you start to read the book. You can get started on the first chapter.

These ingredients are proven to bring you maximum personal growth in the shortest possible time. You only need to study and act to duplicate success. In fact, you are going to have an unfair advantage over the majority of people in the world, because the trial and error has all been done for you. Every ingredient you use will stimulate new mental, physical and emotional 'muscle' everyday. People spend years wondering why others get rich, become happier and more successful. You can do it too with the proper training methods. This book gives you the proper training methods based on natural laws.

Why Settle For Limited Success when you can have more. Why be frustrated week after week – year after year with no improvements. Why settle for one more day of disappointment. Why waste another day going in the same direction with a lack of results. If you can stimulate your mental muscle for growth you will build a stronger future. Claim your success right now!

Why risk your time, effort and money when you can own the most

Here is the rear cover of my book. It shows me in action as I discovered just one way to break my self - limiting beliefs about what is really possible.

In the book it will show you how you can discover for yourself what your dominating values are.
